Description

Distribution container measuring 600 x 400 mm made from food-grade plastic. The container features closed walls, a sealed bottom, and solid handles. Its lid consists of two hinged halves that fit together perfectly. The container is lid-stackable and nestable when the lid is open. Substantial space savings are achieved during return transport and empty storage of nested distribution containers. The container can be sealed multiple times and is highly suitable for storing and transporting valuable and confidential products, including organizing files.
