Description

The Europallet type 1208M3RR is a robust and versatile pallet made from regenerated material, making it a sustainable choice for transportation and storage purposes. With dimensions of 1200 x 800 x H 142 mm, this pallet provides ample space for safe and efficient stacking and transporting of goods.

What sets this pallet apart is its design with 3 pallet runners longitudinally, providing excellent stability during transport. Additionally, the 5 mm high raised edges ensure that loads remain securely in place, offering extra protection against shifting.

The load capacity of the Europallet type 1208M3RR is impressive. Statically, this pallet can carry up to 4000 kg, making it suitable for heavy loads stored for extended periods. Dynamically, it has a load capacity of 1250 kg, making it ideal for safe and efficient movement of goods during transport. Even in pallet racking systems, the pallet remains reliable, with a load capacity of 500 kg.
